Modern Day Slavery Exhibit at Sinaloa Middle School

Novato, CA – Sinaloa Middle School will present an exhibit on modern day slavery on Wednesday, October 8, at 6 pm, in the Sinaloa Library. Using project based learning as part of the curriculum, students researched and created presentations and displays to educate others on various aspects of modern day slavery. These student projects will be displayed in the Sinaloa Library on Wednesday, October 8th at 6:00 p.m.

Researching and learning about modern day slavery moved a number of students who have now taken it upon themselves to support "Not for Sale", the non-profit organization that fights to end these practices. Some student will have items to sell part of their display to help raise money

If you'd like to make a donation or purchase items that students are selling, you can make your check to "Sinaloa PTSA" with "Not for Sale" noted in the Memo line. The PTSA will then write one check to 'Not for Sale' on behalf of the students.
