NCTV to Begin Web Streaming NUSD Board Meetings

Novato, CA – Novato Community Television (NCTV) and the Novato Unified School District (NUSD) are excited to announce that NUSD Board meetings will now be streamed via the Internet beginning September 15, 2015, on Novato Community Television's YouTube Channel.

NCTV (formerly Novato Public Access Television) has been televising the NUSD school board meetings since its inception in 2001 on public access Comcast Education Channel 30. Board meetings are also rebroadcast during the week at Noon and 7 pm seven days a week. The live web streaming is a welcome addition giving community members another venue to view school board meetings.

“We’re very pleased that NCTV is able to offer live streaming to our community,” commented Debbie Butler, NUSD Board of Trustees President. “With about 7,600 students in our district, it’s important that parents and the community have access to our board meetings,” added Ms. Butler.

Pam Haessley, NCTV Executive Director, stated, “We’re very excited to offer this extended service expanding our reach to Novato residents and community.”

NCTV, a non-profit organization, is Novato’s local television access station funded by a public access support fee collected by the City of Novato. Past board meetings will also be archived on NCTV’s YouTube Channel. Follow both NCTV and NUSD on Facebook for current happenings.
